

NICK DANZIGER

BLAIR AT WAR

SARA BALDWIN COMING UP FAST

CHRIS STEELE-PERKINS

TOKYO STORY

MONICA WELLER ARPS

FENTON HOUSE EXHIBITION

COLIN SOUTHGATE FRPS

FRAGMENTS OF MOORE

SIR BENJAMIN STONE

MIKE HALLETT FRPS

TECHNICAL

RICOH GR DIGITAL

PENTAX T20

FOCUS ON THE PHOTOGRAPHERS' GALLERY

TO 14 APRIL

SIMON ROBERTS: MOTHERLAND

Motherland, for Russians, is a word laden with meaning, as Simon Roberts found out during his year-long journey across the largest country in the world. He visited its far corners, from Sakhalin Island, Magadan and Chukotka, through to the Siberian provinces, along the way discovering the great loyalty and fierce national pride of the Russian people.

His project provides a panoramic overview of the country, together with intimate and revealing portraits, which show unexpected beauty and humanity in the midst of great hardship.

Print Sales, The Photographers' Gallery, 5 & 8 Great Newport St, WC2

Mon-Sat 11.00-18.00, Thurs 11.00-20.00, Sun 12.00-18.00 020 7831 1772 www.photonet.org

Motherland, a hardback monograph, published by Chris Boot will be available from the bookshop, £25.

Above: Zhenya & Mia, Yakutsk, Eastern Siberia, Nov 2004. Below: Kamchatka, Far East Russia, Sept 2004. Right, top: Magadan, Far East Russia, Sept 2004. Right middle: Meat market in Pyatigorsk, Caucasus, Russia, April 2005. Bottom right: Abandoned warship, Murmansk, Northern Russia, Jan 2005.

